What Is NCUA?

It is the National Credit Union Administration, an independent agency of the federal government which administers the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund (NCUIF), the program which protects savings in federally insured credit unions. The NCUA logo is the one you'll see at your credit union, because every federally insured credit union is required to display this official symbol.

How Safe Are Your Shares?

With all the talk about data breaches and fraud on the rise, your credit union wants to assure you that your savings are insured up to $250,000 per account by the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund (NCUSIF), the healthiest of all the federal deposit insurance funds. Look for the NCUA symbol of safety at your Credit Union and rest assured that the most secure insurance fund in the nation protects you and your savings.

Moving This Spring?

Make sure you let us know your new address. We want to make sure you continue to receive your statements and other information. Give us a call or drop us a line if you're planning to move.

Consider This...

If you buy $2,000 worth of home furnishings with a credit card charging 18.5% interest and you pay off the balance by making the minimum payments, it will take you approximately 11 years to repay the debt. By the time the loan is paid off, you will have spent an extra of about $4,695.26 in interest alone - more than the cost of the actual furniture. Why not consider a credit union loan for any worthwhile purpose, whether it be for that new furniture, home improvements, a new or used vehicle, or a vacation. Regular or home equity loans are available. Call Tammy today for an application & more information.
